

Canadian Injury Prevention Conference 2022

Abstract Submission Guide

Conference Dates: November 2 to 4, 2022
Location: Coast Coal Harbour Hotel, Vancouver, BC

Please use this guide for abstract submission for the Canadian Injury Prevention Conference. All abstracts must be submitted electronically by Thursday June 30th, 2022 at 4:30 PM PDT, using this link.

If you have any questions, please send an email to bcinjury@bcchr.ca.

General Information

The Canadian Injury Prevention Conference will bring together leaders from across the country to discuss the latest in injury research, policy, and prevention. In lieu of a full Canadian Fall Prevention Conference, the Canadian Injury Prevention Conference will have a focused program stream on fall prevention. This conference will be held in person at the Coast Coal Harbour Vancouver Hotel. All attendees are expected to follow public health regulations that are in place at the time of the event.

Submission Form Information

All abstracts must be submitted electronically using this link. Please find an outline of required information below:

- 1. Presenting author's name, title, and institution – please provide the name that you would like displayed on the conference program.
- 2. Presenting author's location – provide the province or territory that you are coming from if you are a presenter from Canada, otherwise we ask that you provide the country you are coming from.
- 3. Presenting author's e-mail – we will provide you with updates on your abstract submission and details regarding the presentations, COVID-19 protocols, and conference updates.
- 4. Authors – provide all authors' names (first and last) AND their affiliations (e.g., Jane Smyth, University of British Columbia). Please do not include degrees or professional titles (e.g., Professor, MD, RN, etc.). The names will be listed in the order that they are submitted.
- 5. Language (English/French) – select the language that your presentation will be presented in.
- 6. Topic – we are accepting abstracts on the following topics: (continued on next page)
 - Fall prevention across the lifespan
 - Road safety/Vision Zero
 - Poisoning prevention
 - Suicide and self-harm
 - COVID-19 and injury
 - Alcohol and other drugs

- Built environment and safety
- Burn and scald prevention
- Concussion/TBI
- Drowning prevention
- Emergency services in injury prevention
- Indigenous health
- Legislation and standards for injury prevention
- New and innovative knowledge translation approaches to injury prevention
- Outdoor risky play
- Policy and programs for injury prevention
- Product safety
- Safe communities
- Sport and recreation
- Violence prevention

7. Presentation type – we will be offering 3 types of presentations:

- a. Oral – the presenter will have 15 minutes to present their work to the audience.
- b. Mini oral presentation – the presenter will have 5 minutes and 5 slides available to them to present to small groups of attendees. Mini oral presentations are in lieu of posters.
- c. Workshop – the presenter(s) will have 45 minutes to present their workshop to a group of attendees. The workshop should aim to improve the skills of attendees.

8. Abstract Guidelines

- a. Abstract title – limit of 12 words.
- b. Abstract – limit of 2000 characters (including spaces; approximately 290-500 words).
- c. We recommend including the following headings for your submission, however please provide an abstract that suits your work best:
 - Introduction OR Rationale
 - Objectives
 - Methods OR Approach
 - Findings OR Results
 - Conclusion OR Practice Limitations

9. Workshop Guidelines

- a. Workshop title – limit of 12 words.
- b. Workshop objectives – list 3 to 5 learning objectives that attendees will meet from attending your workshop.
- c. Workshop description – limit of 2000 characters (including spaces; approximately 290-500 words).
 - Please describe how the workshop will be carried out and how attendees will be engaged.

Please remember that abstract submissions are due no later than Thursday, June 30th, 2022 at 4:30 PM PDT.